

The noblest hunt of all: An exhibit pays tribute to the Israeli pursuit of Adolf Eichmann

In the dock (GETTY IMAGES/GETTY IMAGES)

EDITORIALS

NEW YORK DAILY NEWS
Sunday, July 16, 2017, 4:00
AM

An exhibit opening Sunday at Manhattan's Museum of Jewish Heritage recreates Israel's astounding efforts to extricate Nazi minister of death Adolf Eichmann from his Buenos Aires hideaway. Not least: the bulletproof booth in which Eichmann stood trial in Jerusalem, in front of Holocaust survivors attesting to the horrors he wrought. Before Israel condemned Eichmann to death, the U.N. condemned Israel for swiping a war criminal. The only predictable part of this remarkable story.